

When: Saturday, October 12th, 2019
7-9:30 p.m.

Where: LaRose Club
5531 Germantown Avenue
Philadelphia, PA 19144

Framed in a Picture

is a musical exposition that concludes composer/saxophonist Odean Pope's year-long project, Sounds of the Circle, honoring the places, personalities, and musical relationships that comprised the generative environment that fueled Pope's artistic voice and vision in his North Philadelphia community during the 1950s, 60s, and 70s.

Join Pope and a stellar ensemble, including Gloria Galante (harp), Tom Lawton (piano), Craig McIver (drums), Diane Monroe (violin), Lee Smith (bass), and Bobby Zankel (alto) in an evening of music that captures the collective genius of North Philly's jazz innovators and propels us into Pope's protean, present-day musical imagination.

Learn more at SoundsOfTheCircle.com

Tickets: Framed-in-a-Picture.eventbrite.com
$27.50 per person for the show
$42.50 per person for dinner* and show

*LaRose's Caribbean kitchen will be serving a buffet dinner between 4:30 and 6:00 p.m. At 6-6:30 p.m. dinner guests can witness a live interview of Philly jazz icon Sam Reed by award-winning documentarian Steve Roland.

Cocktails can be purchased before and after the show. There will be no food or beverage sales during the performance.

Free, ample, secure parking is available directly behind the venue. Access parking lot from E. Armat & Kenyon Streets.

Major support for Sounds of the Circle is provided by The Pew Center for Arts & Heritage. Additional support is provided by The Wyncote Foundation.

The Pew Center
for Arts
& Heritage